

LOVE COUPONS

CHAPTER 2

LOVE

IS MORE THAN JUST

Flowers and Chocolates

This coupon idea was year two with me trying to keep up the romance while working through our first year of marriage. In addition to the coupons, I had love notes strewn all over the house so when she woke up she either saw or stepped on a reason why I loved her so much. I designed each coupon for her to use as she needed them for a relaxing moment away from the stress that comes with being a new mother and a new wife. In addition to the romantic coupons, I had a few fun coupons like “Good for one free shower without a cold water blast”. I felt that this coupon would give her the peace of mind knowing that she would one day have a stress-less shower. You see I would wait till she was in ‘mid’ shower, hair completely full of shampoo when I would quietly come in with the coldest jug of cold water and listen to her scream. I still love her scream...muahaha!

The idea:

The idea is for her to have a set of homemade love coupons to use at anytime. This is your opportunity to design a coupon around any kind of idea that will show her that you understand her needs as well as letting her know that you are paying attention to her hectic life.

Set up a word document that has two to three sayings per page. Have each coupon set up in a different font style. Have these sayings circled by a fancy design. Print out the final coupons on colored paper to add variety (I recommend printing off two pages of each just to cover any cutting mistakes). Cut out each coupon and have them laminated.

For example:

Your love notes could read:

- 1) Good for breakfast in bed,
- 2) To watch your favorite show without complaining,
- 3) Good for one hour massage,
- 4) A guarantee that you will not pour cold water on me during my shower,

5) I will take the kids so you can go out with your friends,
6) etc.

Ingredients:

10 (or more) x [3" x 5"] colored card stock

Computer – used to design coupons for printing

Printer – a good printer that will print on colored ‘heavy stock’ paper

Office supply store - go to office supply store to laminate final coupons
